

Dr. M. John Cava

John travels around the world, speaking on missions, encouraging ministries, and training new workers. He is Founder/President of the World Outreach Center in Fort Mill, SC. Along with his wife, Joanne, John has four children and eight grandchildren.

Violence in the Heavens – Breakthrough!

If you are a sincere Bible student, and proponent of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, you are most assuredly aware that we are in a spiritual battle. We often quote Ephesians 6:12 “For we do not wrestle against flesh and blood, but against principalities ...wickedness in the heavenly places.” What we see in the public arena is a manifestation of the influence of power-movements initiated behind the scenes in the spirit realm. So, we ask ourselves this question, “How can we push for victory of good over evil from our position on earth?”

Let us look at the powerful, yet brief ministry of John the Baptist. I am a firm believer in intercession and all kinds of prayer exemplified from Genesis to Revelation. Now focus on John. We know little about his early life, other than his miraculous calling by birth in Luke 1. Was he a monk or an Essene? He appears 30 years later from obscurity with thunderous preaching that shakes Israel. Jesus said of John’s ministry, “And from the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of Heaven suffers violence, and the violent take it by force.” What did he do that not only arrested the crowds, but awakened celestial wars? Jesus called him “... Elijah who was to come.” (Matt. 11:12-13) He was no casual synagogue attendee.

He preached publicly! He baptized publicly! And his piercing messages were simple, “Repent for the kingdom of God is here – prepare the way of the Lord.” As in meteorology, an atmospheric change created a front for a spiritual climate change that ushered in the breakthrough ministry of the Lord Jesus. The heavens opened!

We are experiencing global ideology wars and attempted power shifts at historic levels. The church is being squeezed out of its walls and beckoned into the streets, marketplaces and all the public arenas, again. Even, just “going to church” is being challenged. What is working? It is old-fashion preaching like John, like Jesus, like the disciples, and what worked to revive cities for the last 2,000 years.

Are you aware of clusters of daring street preachers altering the make-up of places and cities in the USA where violent protestors wrought havoc. Is this the spirit of Elijah at work again? Because Elijah and John knew the one who commissioned them, they were fearless. The answer, the antidote, the voice of love and freedom is still the gospel of Jesus Christ that is the power of God unto salvation.

I want to encourage you in this battle of light and darkness to pray and do as the oppressed early disciples of Acts 4. “Now look on their threats, and grant to Your servants that with all boldness they may speak Your word ... heal ... signs ... wonders ... through the name of Your holy Servant Jesus ... and they were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and they spoke the word of God with boldness.”

Let’s keep the World Outreach family “kingdom relevant” in this hour. Go forth! ➔

Dear World Outreach Family and Friends:

May God’s grace be multiplied to you and greetings from the home team. As you look into the pages ahead, you will notice some amazing truths in this Fall Newsletter. God always has a people that are contending for the faith and the kingdom of God is advancing. Amidst all the difficulties, we see many “Good News” reports of Jesus love changing lives. This is what we are doing together across the nations!

Thank you for the years of support of our missionaries and operatives across the globe. It is making a difference today and for eternity. We have treasures in heaven.

Enjoy the following articles and photos. You are a part of making it happen.

Much love and blessings,

The World Outreach Center Team ➔

Ciudad Juarez, Mexico

For the last 15 years, we have lived in Ciudad Juarez, one of the most dangerous and violent cities in Mexico. God has miraculously provided us a large tent, vehicles, and trailers with which we travel to different areas of the Sierra Tarahumara to do evangelism and ministry.

This year the Churches closed due to the pandemic, people lost their jobs, and are in great spiritual and material need. In April, God guided us to begin services outside our home every Sunday. We preach the Gospel, pray for people, give out grocery bags, and are having a great response!

After serving as full time missionaries for 11 years in Italy, God called us to Mexico in 2003 and the ministry "Bridges of Love" was born. Our passion is to see people saved and set free, be it the homeless drug addict, the powerful mafia boss, the middle-class businessman and everyone in-between. Our ministry focus is threefold: to reach the lost, strengthen the church, and meet the material needs of the people.

You can now order Dr. M. John Cava's new book on Amazon in either an electronic version or get a printed copy. We are so excited to promote a blessing to the individual, the Church and the cause of missions. ➔

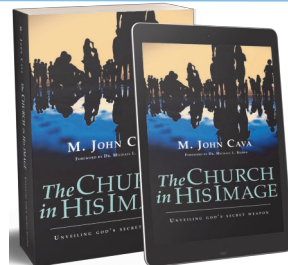

Right now, our biggest need and prayer is to have a plot of land with a building where we can continue these meetings, disciple and train people, park the vehicles and distribute donations.

God is faithful! If we do the possible, He will do the impossible! We deeply appreciate your prayers.

During this time of restrictions and changes in the world, we offer you hope and good news from around the globe. Each country has had different restrictions, policies, and protocols for handling the Covid-19 crisis. Please continue to pray for each of the missionaries as they are pressing forward in their respective areas. Below are updates from a few of our missionaries .

Germany: The Justice Project (Justin and Rawan)

Since the start of COVID, our Outreach Café for women working in prostitution has more than doubled in work. Over 80 clients have come seeking help since the pandemic hit. Prostitution has been outlawed and brothels have been shut down until at least the end of September. The fall out of the sudden and drastic measures have left a complex array of problems for the women. Hundreds who had nowhere to go ended up having to fend for themselves. Too many ended up moving in with "clients" having to service their "hosts" in exchange for shelter and food. One really great development has been that the officials in our city are in more contact with us and are interested in partnering together to develop better exit strategies for the women who want to step out of the sex industry. With the rise in cases of women in housing emergencies, we are looking to open up a transitional housing unit to provide immediate housing to women who have no where else to go. Our goal is to launch this new housing program in January. Please be in prayer for our team and our clients. Things are growing and with it comes new dynamics and many needs.

Philippines: Nick, Jade, and Ava Klein

We're still in a lockdown here in Davao City, Philippines. Children are not allowed to go out at all. I (Nick) am the only one who goes out to do errands but it is so challenging as I have to wear the mandatory mask and face shield. Jade and I were able to go out together only a few times. Although churches are now open, we can't go to church together as a family. Hope you are all doing good. This is how we go out for errands:

Italy: Ciro and Kathy Saggese

We were stuck in the states for just over 6 months due to the COVID-19 lockdown. Our church here in Italy was completely closed from March 1-June 15. Our congregation was able to make and distribute masks, giving them an opportunity to reach out in the community during that time. We returned to Italy on August 8, and after 2 weeks of quarantine were able to return to church. Church services are back in full swing, meeting on Sunday and Thursday, with additional cell groups and prayer meetings during the week. God has been faithful, and we have seen many new people added to the body in the past two months.

Malawi: Frank and Mary Zychowicz

We had planned a busy year of travel, but we have taken this time to rest and prayerfully consider the future. Malawi will soon be reopening and accepting international travelers. We are still waiting to hear if U.S. citizens will be among those welcome in that country. If so, Frank will be returning to Malawi for about six weeks this Fall and ministering in the 'new' church, as well as going out to villages and unreached people groups. We believe the Lord is leading us to travel and minister to other countries as well as he leads.
